Crystal Lake is the only natural lake in the San Gabriel Mountains. It is wild and serene; surrounded by slopes of Jeffrey and Sugar Pines. This lake was the backdrop for the movie, "Dante's Peak."

Accessible Sites on the Angeles National Forest San Gabriel Mountains National Monument (SGMNM)

On October 10, 2014, President Barack Obama designated 346,177 acres of existing federal lands as the San Gabriel Mountains National Monument, the eighth national monument under Forest Service management.

The designation will help ensure these lands remain a benefit for all Americans through:

- 1) Mt. Wilson observatory which provided the world a view into the cosmos,
- 2) thousands of miles of streams, hiking trails and other outdoor recreation opportunities
